MRSA-label bin bag in hospital corridor

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A BIN BAG labelled 'MRSA infected mattress' was left in a hospital corridor for days before being removed.

Sam Dancy, visiting her sick husband Michael on Ward 18, took this disturbing picture using her mobile phone.

The bag was left outside the visitor's toilet for the entire time Mr Dancy was in hospital between February 4 and 7.

It comes at a time when public concern for the hospital superbug MRSA remains high.

But the hospital says nobody was at risk. The incident is now being investigated.

Mrs Dancy, who lives in Stoke Goldington, said: "When we saw this it didn't surprise us really, the hospital is so disorganised.

"I'm pregnant, and the thought of going back and giving birth there scares me. I thought if there is MRSA on the ward they shouldn't really have an MRSA infected mattress lying around. Lots of patients were talking about it."

MRSA is resistant to conventional antibiotics and can be highly dangerous in weak patients.

Mr Dancy has been in the hospital every month since September. His wife claimed: "Michael has only been tested once for MRSA since he has been going in there. You're supposed to be tested everytime."

During 2006/07 a total of 8 cases of MRSA infection were reported by the hospital Trust.

Angie Legate, assistant director of infection prevention and control, said: "Typically, all pressure relieving mattresses are decontaminated and cleaned with soap and water before they are packed into marked up white bags to be picked up by the mattress suppliers for additional deep-cleaning or disposal.

"In this case, the mattress was placed in a marked, sealed black bag away from clinical areas.

"As the mattress would have already been decontaminated it posed absolutely no danger to the public or to staff.

"The company which supplies our mattresses would have been informed immediately of the need for special treatment of the item.

"However, we recognise that plastic bags look untidy.

"Mattresses which require additional cleaning are typically picked up on the day. It is not hospital policy for bags to be left for this length of time, and the Trust is investigating the delay by the supplier. We sincerely hope that this has not caused any unnecessary concern."

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman celebrates his side's dramatic penalty shoot-out win over Swansea on Monday night. Tributes paid to dead taxi driver

rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

FRIENDS and colleagues have paid tribute to a taxi driver who was killed in a crash that claimed three lives at the weekend.

Mourners attended Wolverton Mosque yesterday for the funeral of Mohammad Nadeem Ahmed Qureshi, from Cambridge Street, Wolverton.

The 37-year-old father-of-two was involved in a crash as he drove along the A421 near Bedford in the early hours of Sunday.

His Volkswagen Passat collided with a Vauxhall Astra heading towards Marston Moretaine at 2.17am.

Mr Qureshi died at the scene, as did the driver of the Astra, 22-year-old Tariq Hafiz Akhtar, from Banbury.

Taxi passenger Emmeline Palermo, 32, from Bedford, was taken to Bedford Hospital but pronounced dead on arrival.

Speaking after the funeral yesterday, close friend Tahir Mahmood paid tribute to Mr Qureshi.

He said: "It is a big loss to everyone who knew him.

"We had been friends since we were five-years-old and he was a very good man.

"He was helpful for everyone."

Other friends described him as a 'community man' but his brother was too upset to speak yesterday.

Mr Qureshi is survived by his pregnant wife, four-year-old son and two-year-old daughter.

Last night his body was flown to Pakistan.

Mr Qureshi worked as a driver for Skyline taxis for four years.

Skyline manager Gavin Sokhi said: "He was a nice, kind driver.

"He was a good employee and he will be sadly missed by everyone here. It's a big shock for everybody.

"We do so many journeys every day and we don't expect to lose somebody on the roads.

"It's a tragic accident and he had a young family as well."

Three other passengers from the taxi were taken to Bedford Hospital with serious injuries which are not thought to be life-threatening.

They are a 32-year-old man from Bedford, a 36-year-old woman from Kempston and a 21-year-old man from Rushden, Northamptonshire.

Officers cordoned off the road by the junction with Green Lane, near Stewartby, for six hours as a collision investigation began.

■ Police have appealed for anyone with information relating to the incident to contact PC Simon Hood on 01234 842469.

Princess awards medals to Signals soldiers

THE Princess Royal was in Bletchley last night to present soldiers with medals.

Princess Anne spent two hours at the TA Centre, Water Eaton Road with the Royal Buckinghamshire Yeomanry Signal Squadron.

She presented medals for service in Iraq, Afghanistan and with NATO.

She then met members of the Royal Buckinghamshire Hussar's Association, formed of ex-members of the Royal Bucks Yeomanry.

The Princess Royal has been the Colonel-in-Chief of the Royal Signals for 30 years and visits a number of military units each year under this title.

Viva! Casino gets go-ahead

MILTON Keynes has won its bid to build a Las Vegas-style casino in the city.

The city is one of eight that were given the go ahead to build a large regional casino during a Government announcement in the Commons yesterday (Tuesday, February 26).

The casino will hold up to 150 slot machines with prizes of up to £4,000.

It is now up to Milton Keynes Council, whether it will proceed with the proposals.

Leader Isobel McCall said the council is delighted the city has been selected.

"We envisage the new casino will bring in up to 300 jobs as well as attracting extra visitors with its accompanying benefits to the local economy, culture and regeneration of potential locations for the casino in Milton Keynes," she said. "We now look forward to assessing and awarding a licence to one of the many interested parties that are keen to develop a casino in the city."

Proposals for an expansion to central Milton Keynes' Xscape building to include a casino, a hotel, bars and restaurants, have already been submitted.

But Mark Lancaster, conservative MP for North East Milton Keynes, feels the other suggested locations for a casino – at stadiummk, The Bowl, or the Leisure Plaza – are more sensible.

"I am broadly supportive of a casino for Milton Keynes as I can see the economic advantages for the city," he said.

"I do however have fears over the impact of problem gambling and would rather see the casino in a dedicated drive to location, rather than in the heart of the Theatre District where the combination of alcohol and gambling could be dangerous."

Labour MP Phyllis Starkey said she is sceptical about the plans, but will be fighting to make sure Milton Keynes gets the most out of it as possible.

"My interest is in making sure the casino employs local people," she said.

"I have always thought it should be in Bletchley where we have the most people in need of employment.

"I think the council should insist when they are assessing the bids that the applicants give a commitment to taking on local people, and training them if necessary, rather than shipping them in from elsewhere."

Watch the birdy: Police officer Julian Kendall helps try to catch one of the ostriches in Lathbury

Stressed ostriches sedated with darts

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

RSPCA officers were given the runaround while on a job – by a flock of ostriches

The officers had been called to a field near Lathbury on Friday to round up three African black ostriches.

The birds were being kept for commercial use in a field near Lathbury, but owners had not renewed their licence, which expired in December. Two other ostriches in the field had already died.

Councillors decided to move the birds, which are on the Dangerous Wild Animals list, to a place of safety at Milton Keynes Council's Regulatory Committee on Wednesday, February 20.

Phil Windsor, chief environmental health officer at MK Council, said: "The council's vet, who is an expert in exotic animals, worked with Thames Valley Police and the RSPCA and made arrangements to secure the ostriches, take them to a place of safety and ensure their welfare."

RSPCA officers were worried the ostriches were not being fed properly and were not given appropriate shelter after the second ostrich died.

Chris McKirgan, from the council's animal health department, said: "We had reports that it had been lying dead in the field and when we came it had been moved into the shelter which had been closed off leaving the other two birds with no access.

"Shelter is really important for ostriches because they don't have preen glands like ducks and other birds so when they get wet, they get soaked. In Africa it's not a problem because they dry when the sun comes out, but over here they just die of hypothermia."

Vet Martin Hosegood closes in on a male ostrich with his dart gun

The vet and officers managed to catch the female ostrich with little trouble, but were forced to sedate the two males with darts, as they kept running off, before they could be carried into a horse trailer to be transported.

Mr McKirgan added: "The last thing we wanted to do is put the birds under any more strain than necessary.

"I can assure you they've got a lovely home in Cambridge awaiting them."

Ostriches are kept for their eggs, feathers, skin (to make leather) and meat, which is highly nutritious and low in fat.

It is the largest living bird and lays the biggest egg of any bird species.

The owners of the ostriches did not return our call.

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

School cash found by hook or by Crooks

SIR – I'm pleased to see that funding has been secured for the expansion of Oakgrove school.

However, I'm rather less impressed by the way in which this story unfolded.

Shortly before the public meeting organised by local parents, the Liberal Democrats suddenly secured the money to finish Oakgrove School.

One day it was not secured – because council documents say so – and the next day it was secured.

Clearly, Cllr Sam Crooks decided he'd better solve the problem before facing a public backlash.

Although I'm pleased the money has been found, I find myself disappointed by Cllr Crooks' Lib Dem leaflets which clearly implied there was never a problem and that others (ie local parents) were stirring it.

The leaflet was pure political spin from start to finish, and Cllr Crooks knows as much.

We all make mistakes, and Cllr Crooks could have apologised, but instead he quite shamefully blamed everyone else!

Magically finding money suggests that funding was removed from some other project. Perhaps it's the Middleton Primary extension? Or Broughton Pavilion? Maybe it's some other scheme elsewhere in the City?

We could ask Cllr Crooks (he is the council's cabinet member forfinance) but it's becoming increasingly difficult to tell whether the answer will be fact or fiction.

John Baker,
Broughton

Cash in hand

SIR – Regarding your story last week 'MP has nothing to hide', can I applaud Mark Lancaster for taking the lead and publishing his expenses?

The only way the public are ever going to trust politicians again is if they are transparent and publishing his expenses is at least a step in the right direction. Can we assume that Dr Starkey will now do the decent thing and follow suit?

Lizzy Shaw
Newport Pagnell

SIR – So Dr Starkey MP describes Mark Lancaster MP's decision to publish his expenses as a 'gimmick'?

Call me a cynic, but do I perhaps sense that she may have something to hide? Perhaps a family member on the payroll?

If this is not the case, then why doesn't she follow Mr Lancaster's lead and publish her expenses, after all it's our money not hers.

John Browne
Conniburrow

Pensioners' plea

SIR – This year marks one hundred years since the state pension was introduced.

MP Kate Hoey has put down in the House of Commons an early day motion in support of Britain's pensioners, calling on the Government to link the state pension to average earnings or prices,whichever is the greater.

The National Pensioners' Convention – the umbrella organisation of the pensioners movement in Britain – has asked MPs of all parties to sign EDM 658.

To date only 75 MPs have signed.

The Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association is expecting the two MPs for Milton Keynes to be among the signatories.

Britain has a shocking record in its care of pensioners compared to the rest of Europe. No other European country has the number of pensioners dying in the winter through neglect like Britain has.

Over 2,000 pensioners will be attending the Pensioners' Parliament in Blackpool in June to demand that the Government addresses this issue and raises the living standard of pensioners.

Many pensioners are finding life very difficult with the increase in energy and food prices.

Pensioners are asking for the support of those in work today who will be pensioners themselves one day to write to their MP requesting them to sign EDM 658 and support the NPC campaign.

Dennis Brett
Deputy chairman, Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association

Roof builders slated

SIR – I failed to notice that Milton Keynes had adopted a blame culture. I have studied the agenda and minutes of several council meetings and cannot find where John Best or Euan Henderson ratified the decision to build a school with a faulty roof.

No tenders were ever issued for this job and no detailed plans were drawn for just how to build a dodgy roof over our schoolchildren's heads.

The only people to blame are the builders who should be barred from ever tendering for public authority work again.

The answer to the problem is to put in procedures and checks to prevent a repeat performance.

Both Euan and John have done exceptional jobs for the council amid trying circumstances and changing jockey in the middle of a race is pretty ill advised.

Let's build quality facilities for quality Milton Keynes people.

We all make mistakes and the world is sadly not perfect, but let's look forward. After all the witchcraft trials and the inquisition ended quite some time ago now.

Alan Price
Hulton Drive, Emberton

Unfair bus stops

SIR – A lot of of buses in MK only run hourly.

Also, they do not stop at bus stops that are the most convenient for people. Stops that they do use can be quite a distance from where people live.

This is alright if one is young and healthy but a lot of people who have to use the transport are pensioners or disabled in some way.

A particular route that is affected is the bus stop at Leadenhall Roundabout South (the old 23 bus stop) – I know there are many others.

P Graves and M Dickson sent by e-mail

Put pests to rest

SIR – I am astounded at the correspondence regarding rabbits on allotments.

This highlights the difference between country folk and bunny-hugging, town-dwelling Oddie-ites.

The rabbit has long been classified as an agricultural pest and has to be controlled; there are several ways to achieve this and the most humane way is to shoot them.

I consider gassing and snaring not to be humane and if Mrs Burke can come up with a better solution (contraceptive pills excepted) farmers all over the country will be beating a path to her door.

It is obscene that the parish council is paying £3,000 for fencing when children are starving in the world – send the money to St Bob Geldof's Africa appeal.

Any number of shooting men would volunteer to come and control the rabbits for free, while the bunny-huggers are tucked up indoors watching the furry animals on Spring Watch or the like.

Could we be fairly certain that, like a good many allotment holders, Mrs Burke is not averse to using slug pellets which not only cause a good deal of suffering they also do no good to the songbirds which feed upon the dead slugs; both have equally as much right to live in peace as A Groom suggested in response last week.

I would like to thank Bob Carder for such an eloquent and factual response to the original letter.

Malcolm Tripp
Walnut Tree

■ SIR – I am writing in reply to Mrs Bonarius', Mrs Groom's and Mrs Burke's response to Mr Carder's letter, concerning their views on rabbits and the need to control them, and indeed their general negative attitude towards shooting.

I personally, am absolutely in favour Mr Carder's views of controlling rabbits wherever necessary, including allotments and in other places where they do damage, especially in areas such as newly planted woodlands, where damage to young trees certainly can and does occur.

The main problem which I see virtually all the time, is with the general public's attitude to shooting.

Some members of the public, they are totally against shooting, without bothering to look into it more, and see the bigger picture.

The simple hard facts are that things such as rabbits have to be controlled, and whichever way you look at it, controlling rabbits by shooting, when it is carried out by a firearms-registered person is very much legal.

We DO NOT go around shooting all wildlife, despite what unenlightened people will say.

Also, registered shotgun and firearms-licence owners have to undergo thorough police checks before they are even granted a licence.

What I would like to ask Mrs Bonarius, Mrs Groom and Mrs Burke is, are they vegetarians?

If any of them are, then I apologise beforehand, but if they are not, then it is more than an attitude of hypocrisy to criticise Mr Carder for shooting rabbits and pigeons, if they are perfectly happy to eat battery farmed and artificially reared supermarket meat, which has no chance of escaping before it is killed?

At least rabbits and pigeons, which live in the wild, have every chance of escaping from the shooter's shotgun or rifle. Something which a battery farmed chicken does not.

Rabbits and other game are by far the healthiest source of meat available, high in protein and low in fat.

Gavin Banks
Blatherwycke, Northamptonshire

Children in care are real – not cyberkids

SIR – It was with great interest that I read the article in your newspaper recently featuring Tim Read 'Virtual headteacher'.

I am, and have been for several years, a foster carer in MK and I have never even heard of this man let alone his ridiculous title of 'virtual head' for a 'virtual school'.

This seems to give the impression that the children in my care are nothing more than aliens in Tim Read's virtual world. These kids are real kids who have come from sad and confused backgrounds and need to be treated as normal kids – not kids from cyberspace.

I was also interested to read about a company 'employed to phone every school every day to check the youngsters are at school'.

No one from the council has informed me, as a carer, of this scheme.

Al-in-all this is another case of someone from MK Council misleading your reporters and your paper falling for it.

It's about time you spoke to those really involved rather than some probably very highly paid man who is living in his own 'virtual world'.

DJs in a spin

DISC jockeys in Milton Keynes are in a spin.

Four of them will run Sport Relief but with a difference - using their fingers and not their legs.

The quartet, who warmed up for the event yesterday, will be letting their fingers cover the equivalent of six miles by spinning record discs for five hours as part of the celebrations during Sainsbury's Sport Relief Mile on Sunday, March 16.

The DJs session at thehub:mk is just one of many activities that will take place on the day. The centre of Milton Keynes will be closed around Witan Gate.

Those who take part can choose to do one, three or six miles in Milton Keynes, entry forms are available online at www.sportrelief.com or at event sponsors Sainsbury's supermarkets.

Council boss on meeting agenda

Councillors set to discuss the futures of staff involved in school build debacle

John Best

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

COUNCIL chief executive John Best will find out his fate after a special meeting tomorrow night.

Last week MK NEWS exclusively broke the news that he had been heavily criticised in a damning second report on the council's school build programme.

Councillors at the cross-party private meeting will discuss what action, if any, needs to be taken against staff concerned.

Council leader Isobel McCall, who commissioned the report and later refused to say whether she had full confidence in the chief executive, has said she would not be surprised if serious disciplinary action is taken against members of the Corporate Leadership Team (CLT). Speculation is mounting that there will be resignations.

This follows the standing down of the cabinet member with responsibility for the school build programme, Euan Henderson.

The scathing independent review tore the CLT, including the chief executive and the director of learning and development, Vanessa Gwynn, to shreds.

So far Mr Best has refused to comment on the report.

He has taken leave this week and was spotted at the MK Dons' football match against Swansea City on Monday night.

Conservative councillors are pushing for further resignations. Group leader Andrew Geary said: "This report is very comprehensive and gets to the heart of the issues in both the worries over the school build programme and the general poor running of this council.

"It demonstrates that there is no clear leadership from the leader of the council. Elected cabinet members will not be allowed to park all the blame at the doors of the paid employees.

"Is just one resignation enough?"

The latest report, which focuses on senior management practices, was carried out by Solace Enterpises senior associate, Richard Penn after an internal review in December highlighted major weaknesses in the school build programme.

Last year Giles Brook School in Tattenhoe was forced to close after the ceiling threatened to cave in.

Concerns were originally raised with the council in 2003 but the school did not close until 2006.

Election fight starts early

CITY MP Mark Lancaster says a parliamentary candidate has tried to damage him by reporting him to the Parliamentary Commission.

Last week Andrew Pakes, Labour candidate for Mr Lancaster's Milton Keynes North East seat, requested an investigation into the MP for failing to declare a £2,000 donation from a property developer.

Mr Lancaster had e-mailed the registrar for the Register of Member's Interests trying to declare the donation.

But he was told he only needed to register it with the Electoral Commission.

The donation was made by Palmer Capital Partners (PCP) Limited in September 2007 to pay for a constituency-wide survey. It is the parent company of Frontier Estates which built thehub:mk.

Mr Pakes, who sent his letter to both MK NEWS and The Sunday Times, has also accused Mr Lancaster of failing to declare the same interest when he asked a Parliamentary question earlier this month. Mr Lancaster asked the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government what performance targets had been set for Government quango Milton Keynes Partnership.

In his letter to the Parliamentary Commission, London councillor Mr Pakes wrote: "As Milton Keynes Partnership is the development agency which oversees growth and development in the city, it is clearly of interest to both Frontier Estates and Palmer Capital Partners Ltd which are involved in developing commercial and residential projects."

But Mr Lancaster says his connection with the property development company is not financial. He is a friend of the chief exectutive, who chose to make the donation.

He said the minister made it clear that the answers to his question were in the public domain, on the quango's website.

Mr Lancaster, opposed to the rapid growth of the city, added: "I am flattered that Mr Pakes and the Labour Party have resorted to such drivel so far ahead of the General Election, it just shows how desperate and nasty they have become. Two weeks ago I was one of the first MPs to disclose all my expenses in full, perhaps it's about time Dr Starkey and the Labour Party did the same."

Mr Pakes said: "There are some real questions Mark needs to answer about this situation.

"In particular, why did he take money from a property developer and why did he hide the company's links to Milton Keynes?

"On the one hand Mark complains about growth yet, on the other, he received money from a company profiting from expansion."

Beauties contest the Miss Asia World title

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

BEAUTIES from across the world will be gathering in Milton Keynes for the UK's first Miss Asia World pageant.

The competition is open to women who are originally from any Asian country, including Pakistan, China, and India, though some contestants have moved to other continents such as Australia.

The pageant will be held at the Ramada Encore Hotel in Central Milton Keynes, on Saturday March 8 and is organised by Heritage Asia Ventures, focuses on presenting to the world Asia's most appealing assets in its people and heritage.

It is usually hosted by an Asian country, but this year the UK representative for Heritage Asia Ventures, Patsy White, decided to bring the pageant to her home town.

Mrs White, who lives in Strethan Place, Bradwell Common, said: "I suggested we bring it to Milton Keynes, and not London, as it is a growing city and I felt this would bring something new and different that people would want to come and see. It would also help to promote Milton Keynes to countries in Asia who have not heard of it and show that Milton Keynes has a lot to offer."

The contestants are judged in three core rounds – evening wear, sarong and heritage wear.

The winners become 'cross culture youth ambassadors contracted to share their culture and heritage with others through social development programmes.

The winner will be given a tour to Singapore, Thailand and Malaysia and a £500 cash prize.

Second and third place are also given a trip to Malaysia and cash prizes.

Monster price for eBay potato snack

A PACKET of pickled onion flavour Monster Munch crisps that went out of date in 1991 is being sold on eBay.

Stony Stratford resident Dan Cook, 30, came across the unopened vintage treat in his bedroom cupboard ten years ago at his parents' house.

He has kept them safe and only now has he decided to sell them on the auction website.

The highest bid for the 18-year-old snack stands at more than £20 with one day to go.

The graphic designer decided to list the crisps on eBay after his sister bet him that they had no value.

Over 3,000 people have looked at the item, and 150 people have registered to monitor what happens.

In his item description Mr Cook writes: "1990&.. The first series of The Simpsons came to our TV screens, Macaulay Culkin was left 'Home Alone' in cinemas. Vanilla Ice hit the charts, and Margaret Thatcher resigned. 1990 was also the year that this unique bag of Monster Munch was born!

"I discovered them, unopened, around 10 years ago in the back of my bedroom cupboard.

"It may not be the holy grail, but I was excited by the shiny 'discovery' I had unearthed.

"The thought of throwing them in the bin made me feel strangely uneasy and I felt compelled to put them somewhere safe.

"It's almost unbelievable to think that I've had these since I was 12-years-old. I will be 30 next month and, after more than 17 years of service, I feel the burden of protecting these snacks should be bestowed upon another. Could it be you?"

He warns potential buyers that the pickled onion favourites are not fit for human consumption and are being sold only as a collectible item of memorabilia.

Mr Cook says the packaging is in reasonably good condition with some scratch marks, but that the crisps themselves seem intact yet rock solid.

The crisps were made by Smiths, not Walkers as they are these days.

Their sell-by date is February 23, 1991.

Mr Cook has also posted a link on eBay to a youtube clip of a television advert for Monster Munch from 1986. The auction ends on today at 6.33pm.

Questions from potential buyers so far have included 'Do you have any roast beef circa 1984?', and 'If I eat these will I be transported back to 1990?'.

Mr Cook has responded saying: "I doubt it. You will probably be transported to your nearest hospital."

10-day wait for rat catcher after rodents run wild

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

RATS are swarming across the city because of the mild weather.

Milton Keynes Council said it has received 40 per cent more reports of rat infestation than at the beginning of 2007.

Currently those who report a rat sighting in a public area can expect to wait 10 days for an officer to come out.

But the council says it is prioritising those who have infestations in their homes or gardens and should respond to these reports within a week.

The council has also been using other agencies to support its officers in an effort the clear the backlog.

Simon Teesdale, team leader at the council's Environmental Health department, said: "We do have a backlog because we are having so many calls.

"But it is a national trend and is not specific to any particular area in Milton Keynes.

"There is no real rhyme or pattern. It is due to the mild weather."

The problem may be helped by the recent cold snap which will lead to a small cull in rats, he added.

But the rats that survive may be more frequently visible as they resort to stealing crumbs put out for birds in their efforts to find food.

Council tax tops 4 per cent

THE total cost of council tax is set to rise by more than four per cent.

The overall increase of 4.03 per cent means an extra £50.82 per year, or 98p per week, for the average Band D property.

This includes money to cover the budgets of Milton Keynes Council, parish councils, fire and police services and levies bodies including flood defence and the drainage board.

Milton Keynes Council was due to set its final budget at a full council meeting last night (February 26).

They were expected to agree a council tax increase of 3.9 per cent for its purposes, which means an extra £39.65 per year, or just over 76 pence per week, for the average Band D property.

The General Fund budget was to increase by 8.35 per cent to £165.6m, an extra £12.642m over the 2007/8 budget.

The council claims the increase is no more than the rise of inflation and, in order to keep the cost down despite a Government funding cut of over £5million, has proposed 'efficiency' savings of £3.7million and other savings of £1.13m.

This means some funding and service cuts including a cut in funding to the music service, removal of funding to the local Arts Forum, a reduced subsidy to day nurseries, and a reduction in the Trading Standards service.

Amendments on the proposals from the Conservative and Labour groups were due to be presented to full council last night.

Buckinghamshire & Milton Keynes Fire Authority have approved a five per cent council tax rise - equivalent to an extra £2.62 a year for a band D council tax payer- for their purposes.

A band D council tax payer will now pay £54.95 towards services provided by Buckinghamshire Fire & Rescue Service from April 2008 to March 2009.

Last year the contribution was £52.33.

The fire authority receives about 4p in every pound of your council tax bill.

Thames Valley Police Authority agreed to a four per cent rise in council tax - equivalent to an extra £5.57 a year for a band D council tax payer.

A band D council tax payer will pay £144.76 towards services provided by the police service from April 2008 to March 2009.

Last year the contribution was £139.19.

The Parish Precepts have also gone up by 5.65 per cent, equivalent to an extra £2.98 a year for a band D council tax payer.

A band D council tax payer will now pay £55.76 towards parish council services.

Last year the contribution was £52.78.

Royal visit supremo backs city bid

THE producer behind the Queen's visit to Milton Keynes has backed the bid for city status.

Her Majesty's visit in November provoked a flood of calls for Milton Keynes to be granted city status.

Executive producer Gavin Anderson has now joined a growing number of local residents, officials and dignitaries backing the campaign.

Gavin said: "People seem to think if we just sit and wait it will happen but I want to make sure it happens.

"There is still a lot to do to make sure we are ready."

City status is a rare honour granted by the monarch on the advice of the Lord Chancellor and is normally reserved for special royal occasions.

Following the success of the Queen's visit Gavin was handed a trustee roll with Milton Keynes Community Voluntary Organisation.

He said: "The CVO focus on people and it is people that make cities, with no people cities are just collections of buildings."

The bid will be also be supported by the Milton Keynes Consortium, an independent group of private businessmen and women who worked with the Chamber of Commerce to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Milton Keynes.

A petition on the Downing Street website, launched by Cllr Sam Crooks in December, has attracted 425 names so far.

Monk died under runaway mower

Rev Gyosei Handa was trying to climb back in the cab of the moving tractor before falling beneath three rotary blades

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

Rev Handa at the Hiroshima Day service just before he died in 2007

THE chief monk at Willen Lake's Peace Pagoda died while trying to regain control of a runaway tractor, an inquest has heard.

Seiji Handa, also known by his religious name Gyosei Handa, was on a tractor towing lawn mowing equipment near the Peace Pagoda when he fell and became trapped underneath the machine at around 11.30am on August 21.

Rev Handa, best known for his annual Hiroshima Day lantern ceremonies, helped to build the Peace Pagoda in 1980 and has been there ever since.

On Friday an inquest heard he left the tractor for an unknown reason before it rolled down the slope.

While trying to regain entry to the vehicle he somehow fell,- possibly on wet grass, and became entangled in the mowing equipment, which had three rotary blades.

The tractor then came to rest at the bottom of slope, on a pathway, with Rev Handa trapped beneath.

Vanita Catherine Slater, from Deanshanger, witnessed parts of the incident while visiting the Peace Pagoda with her children.

"The tractor was running away so he was chasing to catch it," she said.

"He tried a couple of attempts to get in. I looked down to reach for my phone because I was really scared. Then I looked up and he had disappeared."

Nicholas Chambers, from Giffard Park, who was cycling around Willen Lake with his wife, heard Mrs Slater's cries for help so ran to the tractor and saw Rev Handa trapped beneath.

"I could only see his head, nothing else," he said.

"It had gone over him up to the neck."

The emergency services were called, but Rev Handa showed no signs of life and was confirmed dead at 11.55am by Rodney Gun, consultant orthopaedic surgeon.

A trail of body parts up the slope showed Rev Handa must have gone underneath the equipment and was dragged down the slope, the inquest heard.

Taran Hewitt, specialist inspector of mechanical engineering for the Health and Safety Executive, said the tractor - which was described as old and medium-sized - was not road worthy and should not have been used as the brakes were faulty.

"The only way of causing the tractor to stay stationary was to turn the engine off and leave it in gear.

"Once it starts rolling there is no way you can easily get back in a tractor.

"This is a fairly common danger."

Rev Handa maintained 12 acres of land in the area, which was leased to the monastery by the Parks Trust.

He lost three fingers on his right hand in an accident with a smaller lawnmower 10 years ago.

The Reverend came to Milton Keynes in 1978 specifically to build the Pagoda, the first to be constructed in the western hemisphere, on behalf of the Nipponzan Myohoji Buddhist order, which strives for world peace.

Samantha James, from the Peace Pagoda said: "We feel very strongly that when Reverend Handa died on 21 August that he did so in dedicated service to the lord Buddah and the creation of the pure land for the sake of all human kind.

"He was an extremely jovial man, very warm-hearted.

"He was much more youthful than 50 years suggests.

"He made friends easily and was well loved across the world among people he met through his peace work."

The jury submitted a verdict of accidental death due to multiple injuries caused by being trapped beneath mowing equipment.

City school truancy rates are improving

TRUANCY rates at schools in Milton Keynes are improving according to official figures.

Children in Milton Keynes scored favourably last year compared to the majority of English schools.

It emerged that 0.79 per cent of all morning and afternoon sessions were missed through unauthorised absence, although the figure also includes children who were late.

The national average for unauthorised absence was higher, at 1 per cent.

According to the Department for Children Schools and Families there were 30,952 full-time pupils in primary, secondary and special schools last year in Milton Keynes.

The overall absence rate dropped from 7.70 per cent in 2005/6 to 7.18 per cent.

Substantially more secondary school pupils missed school than those at primary school.

In September four schools turned to a text-messaging service to combat truancy, allowing a direct response from parents without the need for a telephone call.

Cllr Sandra Clark, Cabinet member with responsibility for children and young people, said: "I'm happy with the statistics as they currently are. We work with schools to ensure that we get as many children in school as possible."

Magnificent seven for Green hopeful

ALAN Francis has been selected by Milton Keynes Green Party to contest the Milton Keynes North constituency in the next general election.

This will be the seventh consecutive general election that he has contested in Milton Keynes.

Mr Francis said, "It is 30 years ago this month that I started work in Milton Keynes when I took up the post of research fellow for computer graphics at the Open University.

"Computer graphics has changed enormously since then and so has Milton Keynes.

"I want Milton Keynes to thrive but in a greener way and without it swallowing up the surrounding villages and fields."

"The Labour government was elected with such high hopes in 1997 but it has failed us on so many issues.

"It has taken us into an illegal war in Iraq, wants to double the size of Milton Keynes by building on the green fields around the city, is eroding our civil liberties and is privatising hospitals and schools.

Green candidate: Alan Francis

"Pollution continues to increase with climate change causing more gales and floods, yet the government's solution is to build more roads and airports leading to even more climate change."

Alan Francis, 59, has lived and worked in Milton Keynes for 30 years. He is now a transport consultant.

Mr Francis is chairman of the New Bradwell Parish Council.

He has been involved in many environment and community groups including being chair of MK Forum and MK Rail Users Group.

He is a member of the Milton Keynes Transport Partnership and the Milton Keynes Environment Partnership. He has been chairman of the Green Party's National Executive Committee (and registered as the leader of the party) and is the Green Party national speaker on transport and a member of the party's policy committee.

He has been a candidate for Milton Keynes in six general elections, three European Parliament elections and more than 20 council elections.

Dodgeball lessons for Ant and Dec and pals

TELEVISION stars Ant and Dec brought their popular brand of comedy to Shenley Brook End School.

The cheeky duo and a host of other stars learnt how to play dodgeball.

The pair had been filmed learning the sport in Milton Keynes as part of their show, Ant and Dec's Saturday Night Takeaway.

Each week they compete against each other in a section called Ant vs Dec: The Teams.

They were joined at the leisure centre by Debbie McGee, Bonnie Langford, Jay Brown, Lee Langford Evans, Paul Daniels, Chico, Melinda Messenger, Lee Sharpe and Sonia.

At the start of the series they each had five celebrities on their team, but Ant lost Wayne Sleep the first week. They performed their new dodgeball skills on Saturday night when Dec's team lost he said goodbye to 1980s pop star Sonia.

Top cops unaware that MP was being bugged

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

Quiet please: The visitors' area at Woodhill Prison where MP Sadiq Khan's conversation with an inmate was bugged

AN MP was not the target when he was bugged twice on visits to Woodhill Prison, the home secretary has said.

Home Secretary Jacqui Smith told MPs that senior police officers who ordered the recording of the conversations were not aware Sadiq Khan was an MP, but junior officers were.

Her statement was addressed to the House of Commons after the release of the results of a Government inquiry led by Chief Surveillance Commissioner Sir Christopher Rose.

The report concluded that there was no breach of political protocol known as the 'Wilson Doctrine', which protects MPs from bugging.

"The monitoring was carried out lawfully and under the legislation," said Mrs Smith.

"It was properly authorised and fully documented."

The report confirmed that Mr Khan, the MP for Tooting in south London, was secretly recorded when he met terror suspect Babar Ahmad on two separate visits to the prison in 2005 and 2006.

Police are alleged to have used hidden microphones, batteries, antennae and transmitters inside the hollow legs of eight tables in the visiting area at the prison.

The Home Secretary stressed that Mr Khan was not the target of the surveillance.

Opposition MPs called for a wider inquiry into whether a much larger-scale routine bugging is taking place.

A former prison officer from HMP Woodhill told MK NEWS that it is commonplace for police to bug meetings between inmates and visitors and, that police would 'specifically target' certain people to bug..

The Tories also criticised the "woeful lack of understanding" of the junior officers who not did respond when they realised Mr Khan was an MP.

The Home Secretary said this would be addressed in a review of current codes of practice to make clear that any conversation between MPs and their constituents should be classed as confidential.

Earlier this month Mark Kearney, who worked as a prison intelligence officer at Woodhill from 2003, told reporters he feared for his life after a court statement was leaked containing his confession to the controversial bugging.

In the statement Mr Kearney, 48, said he had been under 'significant pressure' from the Metropolitan Police to record conversations between the MP and Mr Ahmad.

In the Commons last Wednesday Leighton Buzzard conservative MP Andrew Selous said Mr Kearny's offer of support to the inquiry had not been sought.

He added that Mr Kearny and Citizen journalist Sally Murrer, who are both facing unrelated accusations relating to leaking sensitive details of police operations to the press, fear for both their safety and that attempts would be made to silence them.

Adults only

WOODHILL prison will no longer hold murderers and terrorists under the age of 18, after a campaign by the jail's governor.

Woodhill governor Luke Serjeant said it was 'inappropriate' for the Category A prison to detain juveniles alongside serious adult offenders.

The jail, on Tattenhoe Street, used to hold up to eight 16 and 17-year-olds who had committed serious crimes such as murder and terrorism-related offences.

They were kept in a special unit within one of the prison's house blocks and, kept separate from other prisoners.

Woodhill has not held any under-18s since August 2007 when the two who remained were downgraded from Category A, which meant they could be held in juvenile prisons elsewhere.

For months the governor has been trying to secure an agreement with prison officials and the Youth Justice Board to make the temporary absence of juveniles a permanent arrangement.

Earlier this week Mr Serjeant said: "It has been confirmed to me that Woodhill will no longer be expected to hold juvenile prisoners.

"The staff here did an excellent job while we held juveniles, but I think holding these children in the same prison as some of the most serious adult offenders in the country was inappropriate.

"I have always felt that this was not the right environment for prisoners under the age of 18 and am pleased that the decision has been made not to return them to Woodhill.

"In the future any juveniles who merit the higher security level will be held in prisons which already manage juveniles and/or young offenders but with appropriate additional security measures put in place to deal with the risks that they present."

Enigma sailors meet in Hut 8

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A HUT in which the Enigma code was cracked has been opened at Bletchley Park.

Hut 8 was where figures such as Hugh Alexander and Alan Turing, the founding father of the modern computer, worked.

After the Second World War finished and people who had worked at Bletchley Park in secrecy went back to their normal lives, the hut fell into a state of disrepair.

In 2005 English Partnerships and Grantscape gave funding to renovate the hut to its authentic wartime condition.

The renovation has taken nine months and it is now open to the public with exhibits including a reconstruction of Turing's wartime office, complete with a mug chained to the radiator.

The Petard Exhibition, which relays the story of the capture of an Enigma machine and key list from the German U boat, U559 by HMS Petard, is also on display.

On Thursday surviving members of the HMS Petard crew and VIPs attended its official opening.

During the war Hut 8 passed its decrypts to the Naval Section in Hut 4, for translation, intelligence extraction and transmission to the admiralty.

The hut was built in January 1940 and initially satff were elite codebreakers such as Peter Twinn, Oliver Strachey, Hugh Foss, Tony Kendrick and Joan Clarke. By December 1940, 41 people worked there. This eventually rose to 140 although the team was small compared to other huts.

Simon Greenish, director of Bletchley Park Trust, said: "Inside this hut work went on that had a more profound impact on changing events in the 20th century than almost any other hut in Bletchley Park.

"Bletchley Park Trust will continue to work tirelessly towards achieving the renovation of the other key buildings here, including Huts 3 and 6, for both the enjoyment and education of future generations and in honour of the incredible achievement of the Bletchley Park Codebreakers."

Sex assault on bus passenger

A WOMAN has reported being sexually abused by a passenger on a bus.

The attack took place after the offender spoke to the woman at the bus stop by Milton Keynes Hospital.

The man took her hand and said he was getting the number four bus to Springfield before changing his mind and jumping on the same bus as her. Once aboard the number five to Bletchley, he sat next to the woman and began to touch her indecently.

The alleged sexual assault took place at 11am last Tuesday.

The offender got off the bus at Bletchley bus station and got on a number four bus at around 11.20am.

PC John Williams said: "I'm appealing for anyone who saw this man in the area of Milton Keynes Hospital or Bletchley bus station, or witnessed the incident to come forward. I'm particularly keen to speak to an elderly Asian couple and a young white couple who were waiting at the bus stop with the victim and anyone else who got on a number five bus between 11am and 11.20am."

The man is described as having olive skin, with short wavy black hair, aged in his early 30s, about 5ft 7ins and medium build.

He was wearing a black three-quarter length jacket, blue jeans and black and grey trainers.

He has a round face, short legs and stocky thigh muscles.

Anyone with information about this incident can contact PC Williams on 08458 505505.

Roll up for Rollers party

Skate Jam out to recreate the cult status of the Denbigh North nights

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A ROLLERS reunion event is taking place at Bletchley Leisure Centre this Friday.

Skate nights that are currently held every now and then at the leisure centre are not attracting a big enough crowd.

But it is hoped that the new bigger and better Bletchley Skate Jam, complete with the same DJ that used to play at the old venue, will become a monthly event.

Rollers, formerly based at the Denbigh North Leisure complex, enjoyed cult status in Milton Keynes in the 90s after opening in 1988.

It closed in 2001 and was knocked down to make way for the MK Dons' stadium.

Bletchley Skate Jam will try to recreate the old atmosphere, with DJs playing all the old tunes, a top notch sound system and impressive lights and lasers.

Gary Cassidy, of Towan, Fishermead, used to DJ at Rollers and is setting up the event.

He said: "If you used to go the Rollers then get your skates on.

"I'm hoping to make this a monthly event but I need a good turn out for the first one.

"We can fit 200 people in at a squeeze.

"So dust off your old boots and pop down and enjoy a great atmosphere."

Last year MK NEWS revealed that a skating forum had been set up so that former Rollers fans could share their memories.

Ex-Rollers regulars were invited to swap stories, submit articles and send in photos.

Skaters have been using two forums, Roller Groove and Rollers Days, to stay in touch and find out about skating events elsewhere in the UK.

Laura Martin, a local member of Rollers Days, said: "It's brilliant, loads of people still stay in touch.

"This idea is really good, they're having a DJ there who used to DJ at Rollers and he's bringing all his equipment. They're going to do it properly.

"Most of the people on the website are going."

That website was set up by Stuart Breedon, an ex-Rollers skate steward, in 2005.

He said: "When it closed it was like leaving school, you lose touch with all your friends. I started it just to show people a few photos, and I thought one or two might come along.

"Then loads turned up and we ended up saying 'Let's go skating together again'."

■ The Bletchley Skate Jam starts at 8.15pm and entry is £4.

Leisure centre cash windfall

SPORT England has granted nearly £1million to go towards the revamp of Bletchley Leisure Centre.

The iconic pyramid-shaped leisure centre built in 1971 will be replaced by an £18million structure on which building work starts this week.

The new centre will include a fitness suite, an eight lane swimming pool, a large sports hall for badminton, netball and basketball, a martial arts and gymnastics area, four squash courts and an eight lane indoor bowls rink.

Sport England's frant of £980,000 is the largest they have made in recent times.

The brand new state of the art facility is to be part of a much wider regeneration programme in the town.

It will not only support Sport England's goal to increase participation in sport and active recreation in the region, but will also act as a springboard for potential Olympic and Paralympic hopefuls for 2012.

Judith Dean, South East regional director of Sport England - a non-departmental public body and National Lottery distributor - said: "This grant will help create a 21st century leisure centre that will provide the local community with the facilities that are much needed in the area.

"The new site will also offer disabled facilities that will help encourage a more diverse range of club member and play an important part in increasing the level of participation in sport and recreation in Bletchley, Milton Keynes and the wider community."

Cllr Euan Henderson, council cabinet member for leisure, sports and community services, said: "It is important for the area that we invest in a new leisure centre with a modern swimming pool that is less costly to run and meets the needs better for people with disabilities."

Race for Health chief speaks on equality issues

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

NHS staff are being invited to an equality conference.

It will focus on race, disability, gender, age, sexual orientation and religious beliefs as well as human rights.

'Equality and diversity – it's everyone's responsibility' is taking place at stadiummk, set up by the Primary Care Trust (PCT) and MK Racial Equality Council (MKREC).

The conference on March 17 is also open to local and voluntary groups and the public.

The key aims of the conference will be to raise awareness of the equalities agenda and learn how things can be done differently by working with a range of diverse groups to understand their needs.

The keynote speaker will be Prof Helen Hally, national director for the NHS Race for Health.

Providing the local perspective will be Dr Nicholas Hicks chief executive/director of public health at Milton Keynes PCT.

Gillian Prager, the PCT's director of standards and public engagement, said: "Equality and diversity are everyone's responsibility and this event will emphasise how people in Milton Keynes can influence the way in which the PCT addresses the equalities agenda.

"It is an opportunity to promote equality and challenge potential discrimination in the way we work."

It will be the first conference of its kind in Milton Keynes, and will give NHS staff the opportunity to meet local voluntary and community groups, other stakeholders and service users.

The event, which is funded by the PCT, runs from 9.30am until 4pm.

■ For further information contact Allison Carlton at Milton Keynes PCT on 01908 243530 or e-mail: allison.carlton @mkpct.nhs.uk

Skydivers highlight Reynaud's

A GROUP of skydivers are taking to the air in Milton Keynes to highlight Raynaud's Awareness Month.

Raynaud's affects 10 million people in the UK causing the blood supply to the body's extremities to be interrupted and can be the first symptom of scleroderma, a debilitating connective tissue disease.

Unfortunately, there is no cure for either condition although many more treatments are now available and early diagnosis is essential.

Anne Mawdsley MBE, founder and chief executive of the association who has both Raynaud's and scleroderma said: "I am determined to raise money for research by whatever means. My consultant has told me quite categorically that jumping from a plane would not be good for my lungs so indoor body flying is my compromise."

Among the intrepid band of skydivers joining Anne at Airkix in Milton Keynes, will be celebrity patrons Nick Ross, broadcaster and journalist and Olympic gold medallist David Wilkie MBE.

The skydive will experience free falling the equivalent of three sky dives, from a plane at 10,000 feet, in just two minutes.

Too hot to eat

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

DINERS were evacuated from a restaurant on Saturday night when a fire broke out in the kitchen.

Customers were left hungry when the alarm sounded at TGI Friday's in the Theatre District and everyone was forced to leave.

Smoke filled the restaurant after a grill caught fire in the kitchen.

Fire crews from Great Holm and Broughton rushed to the scene on Lower Twelfth Street just before 8.50pm.

Sarah Taylor, 35, from Rectory Orchard, Lavendon, was dining with her partner when the fire started.

She said: "It was packed, they had several birthdays going on, lots of tables with meals on the go, and there were quite a few children in there. We'd ordered but our food hadn't actually arrived, we had drinks on the go.

"Ten minutes after we ordered smoke started coming out from the kitchen. We were sitting right next to it. We asked our waitress what it was and she said 'You'll hear in a minute' then the fire alarm went off. We all filed out."

They gave a waitress their details so that they could be reimbursed for their drinks, and received a phone call on Sunday to say that they would be given a voucher.

A spokesman for T.G.I. Friday's said: "The fire broke out on Saturday night when the restaurant was very busy.

"Our first concern was the safety of our customers and our staff responded calmly to ensure the restaurant was quickly evacuated."

Students raise funds and decorate hostel

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A HOSTEL for the homeless has been given a new lease of life through the hard graft of nine students.

The pupils, from Milton Keynes College, spent two weeks giving the Cambridge Street Hostel, in Bletchley, a lick of paint.

The project was part of the Prince's Trust Programme, a unique personal development course for 16 to 25-year-olds that builds on confidence, motivation and a host of other skills through teamwork and determination.

Ben Smith, Prince's Trust programme leader at Milton Keynes College, said: "The students chose the hostel as their community project over several others as they felt that this was of a greater benefit to the community, would be more of a challenge and would allow them to experience working with homeless people.

"Not only did they have to redecorate two kitchens, a lounge, bathroom and reception area but all the funds had to be raised by them too."

The team had only two weeks to plan and host a number of fundraising events for the project including a cake sale, a car wash, a penalty shoot out competition, a basket ball competition, a bag pack at Marks and Spencer and a raffle.

The hostel supports single homeless people over the age of 25 years with support needs, such as alcohol or drug dependency, depression or relationship breakdown.

Staff at the hostel support service users by building self esteem and improving basic living skills that will be required to live independently.

At the end of the 12-week Princes' Trust Programme the students will gain a City and Guilds certificate in Personal, Teamwork and Community Skills and various Prince's Trust certificates.

Since its launch in 1990, over 40,000 young people have taken part in similar programmes run all over the UK.

Over 70 per cent of those who complete the programme go on to either further education or employment.

Driver pleads guilty to killing ex-nurse

A MAN has pleaded guilty to causing death by dangerous driving, after his BMW collided with a stationary vehicle on a grid road.

Roger John William Heath, from Odell Close, Woughton on The Green pleaded guilty to the charge at Aylesbury Crown Court last Thursday (February 21).

Any inquest on Tuesday February 19 heard that the collision on October 29 last year led to the death of retired nurse Philamena Irene Pope, from Aspley Heath.

The 56-year-old, who was driving a Vauxhall Astra, stopped in the outside lane on the H8 Standing Way for an unknown reason at around 7.50pm, the inquest heard. A black BMW 7 series, driven by Mr Heath, collided with back of her car.

Mrs Pope, who was born in Kenya, was treated by paramedics but died at the scene.

Dr Nicholas Hunt, Home Office pathologist, said: "She had injuries to all areas of her body, principally bruises and grazes and a number of broken ribs, but the most important was a very serious injury to the upper neck."

He told the inquest she died due to damage to her spinal cord.

The inquest was adjourned to await the results of Heath's Crown Court hearing.

He was remanded in custody and will be sentenced in March.

Home oxygen users could face fire risk

PEOPLE who use oxygen in their homes for medical reasons are being encouraged to arrange a visit by Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service.

It's so that firefighters can help them assess the fire risks and provide vital fire safety advice, including the best means of escape if there's a fire.

Keith Wheeler, a member of Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service's community safety team, said: "A significant number of people in Buckinghamshire and Milton Keynes benefit from oxygen therapy in their homes.

"We are keen to meet them all so that we help make sure they are aware of all the potential risks, particularly in the event of a fire.

"A leaking cylinder could speed up the rate at which a fire spreads by providing an oxygen-rich atmosphere, and of course the cylinders themselves could explode in the event of a fire, increasing the danger to occupants and firefighters.

"By supplying your address and a description of the oxygen products you use, you will be providing vital help to firefighters if there's ever a fire at your home."

Users' addresses will be entered on to a confidential database so that in the event of a 999 call from one of them, Buckinghamshire Fire an Rescue Service will know immediately that there is oxygen in the house.

Each user will be visited, and firefighters will carry out a basic assessment of the fire risks in their home. This usually takes about half an hour.

To arrange a visit, or simply to add your details on to the database, call 01296 744477 or send an e-mail to cs@bucksfire.gov.uk

SAFETY TIPS

Oxygen users should bear the following safety tips in mind:

■ Store oxygen equipment safely, and make sure you understand how to use it.

■ Never smoke, or let anyone else smoke in the same room as you, while you are using the equipment.
If you smoke when not using oxygen equipment, extinguish all smoking products completely in a proper ashtray.

■ Do not use your oxygen equipment near open fires or naked flames.

■ Do not use electric razors, hairdryers or any electrical appliances while using oxygen.

'Gang of Ten' waiting to award kids cash

WANTED – young people to apply for money.

Milton Keynes Council's Youth Opportunity Fund is set up to specifically help and support local young people.

The fund runs from April to March and with the year coming to a close there is no time to lose for young people wishing to apply for financial support, whether it's to help with access to IT or other learning equipment, enable young people to play their favourite sport, or simply make it possible for a group outing to somewhere special.

YouthBank is the group of ten trained young people, aged 13 to 19, who manage the Youth Opportunity Fund in Milton Keynes and process the applications from other young people, with support from Milton Keynes Youth Service.

Youth participation officer Matt Barnaby said: "There are lots of opportunities for individual young people or groups to make use of these funds and at Milton Keynes Council we're trying to encourage as many young people as possible to come forward with their requests and their ideas.

■ To find out more visit www.milknbeans.com or call Roz, Abdul or Matt on 01908 253624.

The George Wimpey's eco-development: Reduced waste and carbon emissions

Eco-homes on sale

NEW eco-homes being built at Campbell Square have now gone on sale.

George Wimpey's eco-development, which will be fully completed in 2010, will feature sustainable design including renewable energy such as solar panels and environmentally friendly green roofing.

Some of the development's apartments can expect the solar panels to provide 40-50 per cent of their hot water helping to reduce gas bills and carbon emissions.

All the homes will also by kitted out with energy efficient white goods, low energy white downlighters and insulation which go beyond current building regulations.

Tony Woodman, sales director for George Wimpey North Thames, said: "Milton Keynes is a fantastic area to live and we are creating 280 unique and distinctive residences which will comply with the EcoHomes excellence rating.

"George Wimpey is working towards the homes of the future where reduced waste and carbon emissions will be key and sustainability will go hand in hand with luxury."

The Campbell Square properties, which went on sale this weekend (March 2 and 3), cater for a range of buyers, with one and two bedroom apartments suitable for young professionals or first time buyers, as well as four bedroom homes.

The first phase will be complete by the end of this year with the first buyers moving in to their homes by January 2009.

Middleton Primary School

School set to grow by 30 pupils a year

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

FORMAL proposals to enlarge Middleton Primary School to cope with the demand for more student places are to be published.

Plans have been made to extend the school onto a neighbouring site reserved for education.

The action is being considered as development in the east of Milton Keynes is putting increasing pressure on schools in the area.

The council expects all local schools, including the new school to be built in Brooklands, will be full by 2009.

The extension would allow the school, which currently has 420 pupils, to take on 30 more children each year.

This would increase its capacity by 210 to a total of 630 places.

A 12-week consultation on the proposals by Milton Keynes Council ended on February 6.

Last Tuesday (February 19) the council cabinet gave the go ahead to publish formal proposals for the extension with the required public notices.

A further six week consultation period will now be held.

You can give your views online at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/schools.

Find out if you are the brightest Sparc

CLEVER clogs will be rewarded this May at the Bright Sparc Awards in Cranfield.

The technology-led awards are being held to acknowledge innovative achievements by businesses and entrepreneurs.

The event at Cranfield University on May 14 is the brainchild of the Sparc technology network.

It is being held on the eve of Cranfield Venture Day, a one-day conference and networking event for entrepreneurs.

The awards are split into six categories including young technology entrepreneur of the year (18-30), technology entrepreneur of the year, technology led business of the year under £5m turnover, innovation support person of the year, the Biztech Award for the best use of technology and the best interaction between HEI and a technology-led enterprise.

From the winners of each category, the winner of the overall Bright Sparc Award will be chosen.

Chris Dunkley, director of the Milton Keynes Enterprise Hub and Sparc's network director, said: "The Bright Sparc Awards are a great way for innovative companies in our region to showcase their work to an expert panel of judges and gain recognition for their achievements.

"You can nominate clients, suppliers, colleagues or even yourself.

"Milton Keynes and the surrounding region is home to many technology companies all of whom are pushing the boundaries of their chosen specialism.

"The awards promise to be closely fought and a real boost for the winners."

Online application forms are available from www.brightsparcawards.co.uk.

Once all nominations have been received the short listed entrants will be interviewed via phone by a representative of the judges.

As well as prizes offering real business support for the winners, all finalists will be given space and marketing material to exhibit at the Cranfield Venture Day on May 15.

Milton Keynes to Paris – by rail

HOLIDAYMAKERS can now buy a rail ticket from Milton Keynes to Euro Disney.

The new train operator, London Midland, has signed a deal with Eurostar to offer through-tickets from Milton Keynes to Paris.

New fares also include travel from the city to the Disneyland Resort and Brussels.

Prices start at £71 return for the four hour journey to Paris.

Trains reach Euston within an hour of departure before travellers board the tube to the newly restored St Pancras International for the Eurostar connection to Europe.

Housing in Milton Keynes
The next 10 Years?

Milton Keynes Council are holding a public meeting to look at issues that will affect all residents of Milton Keynes whether you rent or own your home. If you answer yes to any of the questions below then you will definitely want to be at the meeting:

- Are you interested in the future of housing in Milton Keynes?
- How can we meet the demand for housing?
- How can we ensure that everyone lives in a decent home now and in the future?
- Do you have concerns about escalating property prices?
- Do you worry how our children and grand children will afford to live in the area?

These are all massive questions which we and our children face. The council is taking a leading role in trying to find the answers and we want to talk to you – residents of the Borough – to hear your views and to help us find solutions together.

Come to a meeting of the Housing Services Forum on Thursday 6th March.

The meeting is open to everyone with an interest in housing in Milton Keynes.

The doors will be open at 7pm for a 7.30pm start. The meeting will be held in Acorn House in Central Milton Keynes. Light refreshments will be provided and transport can be arranged if necessary.

To guarantee your place please call Sam to book on 01908 679250 or e-mail get.involved@milton-keynes.gov.uk

MK Dons players support Bring a Pound to Work Day for Macmillan Cancer Relief

Quids in! Dons back Macmillan scheme

THE MK Dons are doing their bit to help cancer support.

On Thursday, March 22, 2007 more than100 companies, schools and clubs in and around Milton Keynes were part of something special. By taking part in Macmillan Cancer Support's Bring a Pound to Work campaign, in conjunction with Horizon Radio, in just one day they raised over £5,000 to improve cancer services in the local area.

This year Macmillan, Horizon Radio and even the MK Dons are calling on local employers to once again get behind the campaign and urge staff to donate just one pound to the charity on Thursday, March 20.

Julia Beales, Buckinghamshire acting community fundraiser for Macmillan said: "It is amazing what a huge difference just one pound can make. If every employee in Milton Keynes donated just one pound to Macmillan the lives of so many people affected by cancer could be improved. For example £128 could fund a Macmillan nurse for one day and £10.60 could pay for someone to be helped by our Macmillan CancerLine. We are not just looking for Milton Keynes's big employers to take part, no matter now many employees a firm has every pound counts. "

This year the day falls just before the Easter break, a great excuse to start celebrations early.

Every organisation who takes part will be entered into a free prize draw to win a weekend break at a Somerston Hotel, donated by the Express by Holiday Inn, Milton Keynes.

To register your organisation to Bring a Pound to Work call Julia on 01908 565963 or email jbeales@macmillan.org.uk. After registering you will receive a helpful pack with everything you need to take part.

Kids' library books are out of reach

BY ALICIA BABAEE
aliciababaee@mk-news.co.uk

A DISABLED mother of two took her children to the library on Saturday only to find she couldn't take them upstairs because the lift was not in use.

The children's section at the central Milton Keynes Library on Silbury Boulevard is situated on the second floor.

Only the reference library and the tills are on the ground floor.

The lift has been out of use for several weeks while the library is refurbished.

Housewife Francesca Hill, 26, from Buckfast Avenue, West Bletchley, has a problem with the lower part of her spine and legs, and can therefore not climb stairs.

She said: "Being disabled I cannot obviously use the stairs and go up three flights.

"When I asked the library how I was to gain access to the children's section I was told that I could not and that they had a small selection of books downstairs for the children.

"My children love to use the library because of its child-friendly environment and the fact they can sit down in this nice place and read and look at the books.

"With it being half term they were very disappointed to find that because I could not get up the stairs they were prevented from accessing this service."

She says she is angry because she feels her children are missing out because of her disability and that they have been discriminated against.

The lift is not accessible at the moment while works are being carried out.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said: "This is a major refurbishment of our central library which, when complete, will make it a much brighter and more modern facility to use – even better than it is now.

"The work was heavily publicised, particularly in the local media, and we went to considerable lengths to make sure there was as little disruption as possible to our customers.

"We have had very few complaints, and have actually been heartened by how patient most people have been.

"But obviously this lady was distraught and we would welcome any feedback from her."

Chef to take towpath trip to the capital

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A PUB owner who suffers from a painful rheumatic disease is to walk 73 miles from Milton Keynes to London.

Emma Gilchrist, head chef and owner of The Crooked Billet in Newton Longville plans to walk for nine days along the Grand Union Canal to the capital in April.

Emma, 37, suffers from ankylosing spondylitis (AS), a painful progressive rheumatic disease which mainly affects the spine but also takes affect in other joints, tendons and ligaments.

She was diagnosed in March 2007, but is believed to have been suffering from the disease for around 12 years.

"It affects my spine and my buttocks and hips," she said.

"The spine can fuse together and you can become more bent over.

"It is very painful and I need to take medication twice a day.

"I have been told that I am better off than some because I have an active job, if I was something like a secretary where you sit at a desk all day it could have been worse."

Emma is determined that the condition will not beat her and to let other AS sufferers know they are not alone.

She aims to raise £1,500 for The National Ankylosing Spondylitis Society (NASS).

"I wanted to give something back to the charity and, I will have this for the rest of my life so I want to prove that I can still do things and not let it take over my life.

"I also want to make more people know about and understand the condition as not many people are aware of it.

"I want people to see that I consider myself a normal person, I still have a full time job, and to show other sufferers not to give up."

She will take on the challenge on her own, supported by her family following the route in a car.

She has completed Race For Life seven years in a row and regularly walks in the Lake District, but has never walked as far as this. "I am more worried about the blisters," she said. I know I will do it because I am a determined person. I am not the sort of person who gives up."

Emma, who has owned the Crooked Billet with her husband for eight years, will set off on the canal from Woughton on the Green on April 22.

Donations to NASS can be made by contacting Emma at the Crooked Billet on 01908 373936, or www.justgiving.com/emmagilchrist1.

Balaclava robbers take teenager's phone and cash

A TEENAGE girl was robbed by two men wearing balaclavas.

The 19-year-old was threatened by the men before they stole her mobile phone and cash.

The robbery took place at around 11.45pm on Saturday, February 16 on Tavistock Street in Fenny Stratford.

They stole a lilac LG Chocolate mobile and £10 before running off towards the bus station.

The men are both described as being between 15 and 25-years-old, between 5ft 8ins and 5ft 10ins and regular build.

They were both wearing beige balaclavas with peaked fronts and dark clothing.

Anyone with information can contact DS Jackson on 08458 505505.

Want to make your local your business?

The Prince Albert

Vicarage Road, Bradwell Village

TO LET

The Prince Albert is a well established site in the middle of Bradwell village and attracts custom from the local community. It thrives on providing great beers, pub games, live sport and entertainment and a welcoming atmosphere. The pub offers great potential for a community minded retailer to develop a food offering and maximise the impact of the kitchen and garden facilities.

Charles Wells Pub Company is looking for a licensee to run The Prince Albert as their own business, with the support of our specialist advice. Experience is desirable but enthusiasm, a passion for real ale, community involvement and great customer service is more important. If you think this could be you and you have a minimum of £25,000 to invest in your own business, we want to talk to you.

Come down to The Prince Albert

Tuesday 4 March anytime between 3.30pm - 7pm for an informal chat about what you have to offer the community and how we can help you develop a successful pub tenancy business.

If you want further information, please look at the Charles Wells website www.charleswells.co.uk or call our customer support unit on 0500 00 33 08

Win a family day out with Thomas the Tank Engine

THOMAS the Tank Engine is steaming in to visit The Buckinghamshire Railway Centre on Easter weekend.

MK NEWS has teamed up with the centre, at Quainton, near Aylesbury, to offer two lucky families the chance to have A Day Out With Thomas in March.

Thomas has been delighting children and adults with his cheeky smile and useful antics for over 50 years.

Fans of the famous engine can enjoy a day out to remember from Friday March 21 to Monday March 24, with unlimited free rides on Thomas the full-sized steam engine, the 1km long Miniature Railway, roundabouts and a bouncy castle.

There will also be Magic and Punch 'n' Judy shows, a Thomas Video Theatre, and lots of Thomas' friends will be there to see.

Thomas' small cousins will be at the Miniature Railway and, there's even the chance to meet the Fat Controller, Sir Topham Hatt.

Tickets cost £12 for adults or £10 per child (ages 2 15) on the gate, or save £2 per ticket if you pre-book by March 14.

To book visit the Centre at Quainton Road, Quainton or call 01296 655720.

For more information visit www.bucksrailcentre.org or www.thomasthetankengine.com

HOW TO ENTER

To be in with the chance of winning one of two family tickets (two adults and two children) worth £44 each, just answer this simple question:

How many years ago was Thomas the Tank Engine first created?

Answers on a postcard to Thomas the Tank Engine competition, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 ODU or by email to competitions@mk-news.co.uk

Please include your name, address and daytime telephone numbers.

First correct entries drawn win. The editors decision is final and the closing date is March 7.

The tickets are valid for any one day of the Days Out with Thomas event from Friday March 21 to Monday March 24.

Try a new branch of 'mother care'

MUMS are being invited to Aerial Extreme adventure ropes course at Willen Lake on Mothering Sunday to have a go absolutely free.

As a gift from Aerial Extreme this year, the course will be open to mothers and grandmothers of all ages on March 2.

Open from 10am until 5pm, sons and daughters across the city are welcome to bring their mum down for a Mother's Day with a difference.

Site manager Antoine Borysiewicz said: "Rather than traditional flowers and chocolates, why not give your mum something to remember this year?

"The course is designed for all abilities and is great family fun for everyone, especially mums."

Aerial Extreme consists of over 50 fun packed obstacles created for abilities on all levels that are designed to help develop skills and strength.

From 10 to 40ft tight ropes, zip lines, cargo nets and 'wobbly leg' poles, Aerial Extreme offers the perfect outdoor adventure course for novice adventurers and adrenalin junkies alike.

The end of the course climaxes with an optional 40ft jump, giving momentary feeling of freefalling before gracefully bringing you back down to earth.

To redeem a free session on Aerial Extreme on March 2, either the son or daughter must book a time slot and attend with you – whether a participant or spectator.

Speed dating event the cat's whiskers

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COUPLE from Bradwell Village won a double jackpot when they took home a cat and a bottle of bubbly from a canine speed dating event.

Larry and Chris Pullen scooped first prize in the RSPCA's draw after picking out a new pet from the many rescued cats offered up for adoption at the charity's Valentines event.

Volunteers hosted special speed dates with the centre's cats and, to add to the ambience, there was romantic music and some subdued lighting.

The Pullens' prize, a bottle of Champagne, was presented to Mr Pullen when he visited the charity's local branch to collect new pet Bella.

Mr Pullen said: "After losing our two previous cats in a very short space of time, we decided to go along to the'speed dating event.

"Chris and I were delighted when we found Bella, and absolutely thrilled when we learnt we'd won the Champagne too!"

An RSPCA spokesman said: "The speed dating event was a slightly quirky way of reminding local people that we do always have lots of cats here in need of loving new homes."

Learn reading and writing skills in a business environment

POLISHED literacy and communication skills can open the doors to many things, including new opportunities and success in business.

But literacy skills don't come hand in hand with the desire to be big in business: nearly a quarter of adults working in England struggle with maths or English, according to figures provided by SkillsActive.

And in the UK today, around one in six adults don't have the literacy skills expected of an 11-year-old while half don't have these levels of numeracy – costing companies thousands of pounds in wastage and lower productivity, according to LearnDirect.

Personal and corporate success in business relies on effective communication.

With 49 out of 50 jobs closed to people with low literacy and numeracy skills (figures sourced from SkillsActive) the inability to communicate is proving a barrier to success.

As information technology transforms communication, the ability to read rapidly and effectively and to write powerfully and precisely grows more central to success.

The professional communication skills for business studies course (LB160), being launched by The Open University in May, is aimed at people entering the field of business studies who want to develop their reading and writing skills to ensure success.

The course is relevant to people who are already studying or thinking of studying level one business courses and want to acquire the skills to distinguish themselves from their peers.

Jim Donohue, head of English language teaching at The Open University, said: "Many people who take up a business studies course at university find that they are learning to communicate in new ways. In their studies they meet new language, different styles of writing, and different kinds of reading and writing tasks from the ones they're used to.

"The purpose of this course is to enable students to develop reading and writing skills that are effective in this situation. Studying business means developing expertise in these specialised kinds of reading and writing. At the same time, this expertise lays a foundation for the many varieties of professional reading and writing that are needed in the workplace."

As well as developing practical skills, students will work with a range of work-related documents to broaden their knowledge of business studies and the wider business world.

Human resource management, finance and accounting, marketing and business analysis methods are also put under the microscope.

Jim added: "On this course, the main purpose for reading or writing the texts is to develop communication skills. Because the texts are authentic business studies texts, you will, at the same time, learn about business studies. It's designed for a wide range of students. These include students who speak English as a first language and those who speak English as an additional language, those who have much experience of writing and those who have little, those who have been on business studies courses before and those who have not, and those who have workplace experience and those who do not."

Professional communication skills for business studies (LB160) is a 30 point level one course, which combined with B120 Introduction to business studies results in a Certificate in Business Studies and can count towards a BA in Business Studies.

The course runs for the first time in May and registration closes at the end of March. For more information visit www.open.ac.uk/courses

Twenty-plus businesses move in on Linford Wood

MORE than 23 companies are now operating from the new Milton Keynes Business Centre since opening its doors in January.

Companies in IT, the service sector, property, and the security business are among those moving into the state of the art £8.8m centre at Linford Wood.

Offices, studios and workshops on the campus style development are set to accommodate up to 90 companies.

Centre Manager Lynn Patey-Smith says interest in the Milton Keynes Business Centre continues to remain high with the ability to combine units flexibly being a major bonus.

She said: "Businesses can put together a workspace package that is just right for them using office, workshop and studio units and we work with companies to provide a tailor made solution to their accommodation requirements.

"We have been delighted by the early take up of units in the first weeks of the New Year and each day the centre is becoming busier as new companies move in."

The early success of the centre is highlighted by the decision to launch a business cafÈ on site to provide catering for the growing number of businesses.

Business cafes are already well established at a number of CEC Centres and Ahmet Uzun, operator of the Ora Cafe in Harlow, will launch a similar venture in Milton Keynes.

Lynn Patey-Smith added: "We hope to see the cafe open in the spring and become a focus for social and business networking. It's all part of building a centre that is attractive and convenient to work from."

MUSIC REVIEWS

I'LL BE WAITING
lenny Kravitz

Well now, here's a name from the past. I must admit, I didn't think I'd be reviewing anything by Lenny Kravitz again, he'd been gone that long.

I'm not entirely sure whether he's fallen out with the drummer though, because either he's working strictly to rule or he's been ordered not to do anything remotely interesting.

Aside from a couple of moments where he throws in a few sneaky thumps, the drummer's used purely as a metronome.

As for the rest of the song, it builds up very, very gradually.

He certainly seems to have a better working relationship with the people playing the stringed and brass instruments, seeing as they're brought in for the big finish, but when all's said and done this is merely an OK outing for Mr Kravitz, nothing special.

FASCINATION
Alphabeat

Oh heck, it's 1985 all over again. C5s all over Britain (well, car boot sales anyway), Roger Moore is still James Bond, Sister Sledge singing Frankie on Top Of The Pops while John Peel says what he really thinks about the bands he's introducing, pastel colours everywhere.

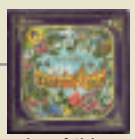
This single really could've come straight from the mid-80s, it sounds that dated.

Actually, this sounds so out of date it could actually be one of this year's Eurovision Song Contest entries. Yes, yes, maybe that's it! I mean, look at what you've got here. The tune is so relentlessly happy and cheerful that it could've travelled here from a mad parallel universe where puppies and kittens stay that way for life, the skies are always blue and H from Steps is Prime Minister of the World.

Want proof? Try this – there are two singers, one male and one not, and they sing the entire song together. Isn't that sweet?

It's happy, it's jolly, it's fluffy, it's that good for you it probably counts as one of your five a day.

NINE IN THE AFTERNOON
Panic! At The Disco

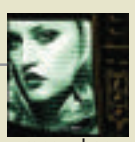


I'M really not sure what to make of this one. It sounds like they've attempted a homage to the Beatles circa Sergeant Pepper, but it's not quite come off.

I think the biggest problem is that when they made Sergeant Pepper, it sounded as though the Beatles and reality were barely on speaking terms, which is a pretty hard act to follow.

This lot do their best, but it's just too steep a hill to climb.

ALICE
Moby



There must be something wrong when you hear a new single and the first thing that pops into your head is 'this could easily have come off an album he did nine years ago'.

But that's what happened to me with this one.

Moby won't thank me for saying it, but despite the dark and pessimistic sound on display here, this really does sound eerily similar to the songs he was putting out when Play was in the shops.

Maybe it's the beat that does it, I'm not sure, but this is another song that sounds a bit dated.

Maybe that's the trend these days..

NEWSPICE LOUNGE

SPICE Lounge has received a dramatic new look following an extensive refurbishment that will open to the public on Friday.

The Indian restaurant and live music bar has changed its image to reveal a striking blend of contemporary colours featuring giant musical murals. Smoky images of jazz musicians and instruments add a new dimension to the venue while giant music notes feature throughout.

The emphasis for Spice Lounge 2008 is music.

Co-founder Anfor Farooque said: "We have listened to our customers' requests the conclusion is that a one-stop party destination for celebrations, birthdays and basically any occasion is what they really want Spice Lounge to be.

"One of the key focuses will be the live music each week that will be upbeat, fun and entertaining; designed to appeal to all music lovers."

The stage area has been modified with stylish new features enhanced by decorative lighting. However, another of the major changes is Spice Lounge's new head chef that has spent the last month simplifying the menu to enhance the essence of traditional Indian food prepared, cooked and delivered to the highest standards.

Shazid or better known as 'Shaz' will take control of the kitchen and put his years of experience and expertise into practise.

He will be supported by 'front man', Osman Barak or 'Ozzy' to customers. Together they will become part of the atmosphere, the humour and the soul of the Spice Lounge experience.

Both Shaz and Ozzy believe in meeting their guests and adding value to the overall customer experience.

This weekend sees Stone Cold Diva on Friday AND Saturday night.

As part of the new music policy, Spice Lounge will have live music on Friday and Saturday and each night will feature the same band.

The venue will be open Tuesday to Saturday from 5.30pm to cater for pre-theatre customers.

Spring/Summer Lines at O'Neill

O'Neill is delighted to welcome British designer Luella Bartley aboard for an exclusive collaboration that is set to launch with a signature line comprising some 30 styles as part of the wider spring summer collection in 2008. Voted Designer of the Year by both Elle and Glamour Magazine in 2006, and with one Designer of theYear nomination at the British Fashion Awards already in the bag, Luella has undoubtedly cemented her reputation as one of the leading forces in the world of fashion design.

The British designer's love for surfing and the surf lifestyle played a big part in making the partnership with O'Neill such an attractive proposition. Reflecting on the partnership, Luella said: "With surf being a big part of my personal life, I have always had a special interest in the history of surf and skate culture and the style that is inspired by it. So when O'Neill, a brand with so much heritage and integrity within the sport, approached me about a possible collaboration, I was immediately won over."

O'Neill can be found just by the staircase on the ground floor in Xscape. For more info on Luella Bartley's spring/summer collection, visit the shopping pages at www.xscape.co.uk

CHEF'S SECRETS

Mother's Day lunch

COOKING for my mother is a pleasure that she deserves.

Normally my mum cooks a Sunday roast because that is what dad wants. But my mother loves fish so on Mother's Day, even though it's a Sunday, dad will have to lump it.

Were having Salmon!

I love fish crispy and here is the method for perfect crispy salmon that can be used for most fish with or without the skin.

The easiest and tastiest potato dish and great for a Sunday lunch is gratin potatoes.

It's a great dish to have in the middle of the table when everyone can simply help themselves.

For simple, tasty extra touches roast some cherry tomatoes on the vine with olive oil, rock salt and balsamic vinegar.

Also take 500 grams of spinach in a bowl with salt and pepper and microwave for three minutes, stir and you have great wilted spinach.

Sunday should be a day when you indulge in a dessert.

People have forgotten how easy it is to make bread and butter pudding.

At the Crooked Billet I make variations on the theme, sometimes I add apples, sometimes apricots – but my favourite has to be chocolate. I serve it with white chocolate ice cream, chocolate sauce, diced fudge and brandy-soaked raisins, but its just as nice with vanilla ice cream or pouring cream.

But remember, you guys, it's Mother's Day so you lot have to do the washing up.

Sorry, football its only a game and can be recorded!!

Emma Gilchrist

PERFECT CRISPY SALMON

Serves six persons

6 Salmon fillets, skin on is better approx 125grms each
Splash of light olive oil
Salt
Pepper

The trick with getting fish or meat crispy is controlling the heat. Cooking times depend on the thickness of the fish.

1 - Put a large, preferably non stick pan, on the highest heat possible. And leave it for five minutes until the pan is very hot.
2 - In the meantime rub the salmon with a little olive oil, and sprinkle liberally with salt and fresh ground black pepper.
3 - Now here's the chef's trick. When you are ready to cook the fish TURN THE HEAT DOWN to a low to medium heat. Do not put oil in the pan as the fish is already oiled. Place the salmon, skin side down in the pan and leave. Don't shake the pan, don't prod the fish, it's a TV chef theatrical thing that does nothing.
4 - Now leave the salmon to fry for five to seven minutes. Then turn the salmon over and cook on the other side for the same time.

GRATIN POTATOES

Serves six Persons

6 Large peeled potatoes, baking are good
3 Large peeled onions
1pint cream
Knob butter
Salt
Pepper

Cooking Time 1hr 20mins

1 - Slice the potatoes and onions , as finely as possible. A food processor would be great.
2 - Butter a suitable ovenproof dish.
3 - Cover the bottom of the dish with a layer of potatoes, then onions, then the cream and then salt and pepper.
4 - Repeat until the dish is full.
5 - Cover the dish with foil and place in a pre heated oven 180c for 1 hr.
6 - Remove the foil and cook for a further 20 minutes until golden brown.

MEET THE CHEF

Emma Gilchrist is the head chef and owner of the multi-award winning Crooked Billet pub restaurant in Newton Longeville. Call 373936 for bookings.

CHOCOLATE BREAD AND BUTTER PUDDING

1 white split tin or bloomer loaf (better if a day old) or sliced white bread
250g cocoa powder
1 pint double cream
1 pint milk
6 whole eggs
250g caster sugar
Enough butter to spread on the bread
Chocolate drops (optional)

1 - Butter an ovenproof dish
2 - Slice bread into chunky slices and butter, cut three slices into triangles
3 - Whisk together cocoa, sugar and eggs. Then add the milk and cream until all the ingredients are thoroughly mixed together.
4 - Arrange a layer of bread in the dish and ladle over the custard mix, sprinkle with choc drops if using
5 - Repeat layers until the dish is full. Take the six triangles and arrange with the points up, pour over the rest of custard.
6 - This is a great dish to make the day before as it's less stress for you and all the lovely custard will have soaked into the bread.
Bake at 180c for 35/40 mins. You can cover it in tin foil and hold in the oven while you are eating your main course.

Fancy your own thatched pub and restaurant?

EVER thought of running your own pub restaurant? Well now it could be a possibility and not just a dream as the Old Crown in Little Horwood has just come on to the market.

Little Horwood is located approximately six miles from Bletchley and nine miles from Aylesbury and is a beautiful village with its core centred around the green with its Grade II listed properties.

There are approx 150 dwellings, a church and two public halls all serving this small and friendly community.

Located in the heart of the village and believed to date back to 1368, the property has recently undergone a refurbishment programme including a complete re-decoration, rewiring, re-plumbing and the thatch has been dressed and re-capped.

The pub has two bar areas with the smaller of these recently used as a 24-cover restaurant. The main bar is more than 32ft long and is currently set out with soft seating and tables. The bar area has slate flooring with bar stools around the bar.

On the first floor is living accommodation for the owners.

The kitchen is very well appointed and all cookers, fridges, grills etc available in a comprehensive fixtures & fittings list by separate negotiation.

It might be possible for the Old Crown to be converted to a private residential dwelling. The current owners have applied to erect a detached house in the grounds of the pub and this can be included in the sale if desired.

Price £795,000. Contact David Thirkettle at tStratfords Property Services on 01908 630100.

*Typical example: Purchase a property valued at £149,000, 75% (£111,750) is payable at the time of purchase. You then pay the other 25% balance at the current market value at the time of repayment which is due on the earlier of sale or remortgage of your home or 10 years from the date of purchase. This is secured by a second mortgage e.g. If the property is sold, or transferred for £150,000 then 25% (£37,500) is payable to Bellway. If the property is sold, or transferred for £200,000 then 25% (£50,000) is payable to Bellway. YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR OTHER LOAN SECURED ON IT. BE SURE THAT YOU CAN AFFORD THE REPAYMENTS BEFORE ENTERING INTO A CREDIT AGREEMENT. Selected plots only – subject to applicant's status. Prices correct at time of going to press. Subject to Bellway's terms and conditions and any loan arrangements must be made through Bellway Financial Services using a Bellway nominated solicitor. Keep your data safe in store

ABSENT-MINDED workers will cost British businesses £3.5 billion this year in lost laptops and mobile phones.

An incredible 41 per cent of the UK's 29million workforce, or around 11.7million people, will lose company equipment or have it stolen, leaving employers to pick up the bill.

Three quarters of those people will lose a company mobile phone by leaving it in a pub, nightclub, restaurant, on a train or in a taxi.

And one in 20 will fall victim to the theft of their laptop from their car or home or leave their computer in a bar or on public transport.

One in 1,000 people will lose a company car to theft.

Spokesman for online data storage specialists www.humyo.com said: "These figures illustrate the huge cost of equipment replacement which we all shoulder as insurance premiums, but they don't even touch upon the value of the data lost with these devices.

"These days we're all carrying around more and more irreplaceable data in the form of photos, music and important business documents without stopping to think about the financial and emotional cost of losing it until its too late.

"We store our user's files on secure server clusters housed in former gold bullion vaults. By automatically synchronising people's data across all of their devices, they have access to their media and documents anywhere.

Also the next time their phone is stolen or their computer breaks they won't have to worry about the data that went with it."

The www.humyo.com poll of 4,000 workers also revealed 32 per cent of people have lost important or valuable data by misplacing their gadgets.

Around 20 per cent have lost vital client's contact details and 32 per cent have lost confidential emails.

It also emerged 68 per cent of people don't regularly back up digital data stored on their PC or laptop.

Eleven per cent have misplaced important presentation material.

But despite frequently losing company property - six in ten employers give no thought to where their work is saved and the same percentage never back up their computer at the end of a busy day.

He added: "Losing information on a laptop or PC can have terrible consequences for businesses as they struggle to replace or retrieve confidential information.

"Our website allows home users and businesses to save data securely, making it impossible to lose important information."

FLAMINGO HOLDINGS

Business Systems Support Analyst
Sandy based

Flamingo Flowers, part of the Flamingo Group have a great career opportunity for someone, who is an excellent communicator and problem solver with an eye for detail, to join our IT team to support our IFS ERP system across 3 sites in Sandy, Spalding and Holland. Primarily, on a day to day basis, you'll update and write Crystal reports and SQL queries, test ERP modifications, train users and maintain user manuals, support the EDI interface, together with getting actively involved with implementations and projects.

Naturally, you'll possess relevant experience and understanding of ERP and business support systems coupled with advanced knowledge of MS Excel, Access and VBA. Previous use of Crystal reports and T- SQL along with some project work will be of added value.

Naturally, you'll be adaptable, enthusiastic and responsive to travelling between sites, often at short notice. The environment is fast paced and ever changing, particularly during peak periods when your flexibility and commitment becomes critical. The role certainly demands someone who is motivated, strongly business analytical and decisive who will quickly become recognised as a team player. The ability to clearly communicate with non-technical users and quickly build effective relationships to resolve varying priorities will be equally important.

An excellent salary and benefits package is on offer together with meaningful career development to realise your potential.

Providing support…your way

MacIntyre's mission is to be recommended and respected as the best provider of services for children and adults with learning disabilities throughout the United Kingdom.

MacIntyre

MacIntyre – Westoning & Flitwick

MacIntyre provides support to adults with learning disabilities and our services in Westoning and Flitwick are looking for staff to join them.

Support Workers - Full and Part Time — Ref: 325SWS

Waking Nights (Female) - Part Time — Ref: 326WNS

Salary: To £15,525* pro rata for part time

Working at our services in Westoning you will provide hands-on support to the people living there, ensuring that their needs are met and that they lead their lives as they wish. You will assist with a variety of activities including shopping or going swimming to household duties and personal care. Flexibility is required as you will be working on a rota basis to include evening, weekends and Bank Holidays.

We also have a vacancy within this service for Waking Nights, working 9.5 hours (1 night) per week. You will support people through the night with their individual needs which will include personal care and carry out light domestic duties.

Relief — Ref: 327REL

Salary: To £7.35* per hour

Unable to commit to Full Time hours? Why not join us as Relief staff, providing cover when additional staffing is required.

Experience is not necessary for any of the above roles as full training will be given. It is essential that you hold a full driving licence and you are willing to drive company vehicles.

Senior Support Worker (Female) — Ref: 328SSW

Salary: To £16,400* per annum

As a Senior Support Worker at our service in Flitwick, you will do everything that a Support Worker does, but in addition you will support the Service's Manager with junior management duties including rota-management and staff leadership. This role will require you to be on-call during the night, therefore the ability to get to the service at short notice is absolutely essential. Due to the complex requirements of this role it is imperative that you have experience of working with people with learning disabilities. You will also hold a full driving licence and be willing to drive a company minibus.

 These posts are advertised in accordance with S:7(2) of the Sex Discrimination act 1975 which provides for the application of a genuine occupational qualification on the grounds of decency or privacy.

MacIntyre welcomes applicants of all ages. In addition to comprehensive training (including to NVQ) and career development opportunities, we also offer 33 days annual holiday per year including Bank Holidays (pro rata for part time), additional entitlement after one year's service and a generous contributory pension plan. Additional payments are made for sleep-in duties.

*Salaries are dependent on qualifications and completion of probation period.

Closing date: 10th March 2008 Interview date: During April

Mowsbury Golf & Squash Complex
Bar and Catering Services
DSD Leisure is seeking expressions of interest from suitably experienced people with a track record of commercial success for the operation of the Bar and Catering facilities at Mowsbury Golf Course in Bedford.
DSD Leisure is keen to initiate dialogue in relation to the future operation of these facilities.
Mowsbury Golf Course is an 18 hole, par 72 public golf course with a 13 bay driving range, along with three squash courts, and associated changing facilities. There is also a resident Golf Club at the course.
The current Bar and Catering operation includes the provision of drinks and refreshments, bar snacks and hot meals. Golf Societies and functions for up to 90 people are also catered for.
Interested parties should write to register their interest initially to: The Service Manager (Sport & Recreation), DSD Leisure, 119 Barkers Lane, Bedford MK41 9RR.
Expressions of interest should be submitted by:
No later than 25 March 2008.
Initial informal discussions will be held with those expressing an interest to seek views on how the contract can be best packaged to make it commercially attractive and to provide an improved service to the public.
A formal tendering procedure will then follow.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A5 TRUNK ROAD (REDMOOR ROUNDABOUT, MILTON KEYNES)
(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2008
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for transport has made an Order on the A5 Trunk Road in the Borough of Milton Keynes to allow for Cabling works to be carried out in safety.
It is expected that the works will take place over 2 nights (9pm to 6am) starting on or after Monday 10 March 2008. The Order will come into force on 3 March 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.
The effect of the Order will be to close the A5 northbound entry slip road at Redmoor roundabout, Milton Keynes. Vehicles will be diverted via the A5 southbound to Bletcham Way Interchange and return north.
Traffic signs will indicate the extent of the prohibition (which will not apply to works or emergency service vehicles) and diversion routes.
MRS J C GLASSON
An official of the Highways Agency
General enquiries relating to this notice may be made in writing to Andy Shiliday at the Highways Agency, Woodlands, Manton Lane, Bedford MK41 7LW or by telephoning him on 01234 796197.

Company No: 02737356
THE INSOLVENCY ACT 1986
HAMILTON ELECTRICAL SERVICES (MILTON KEYNES) LTD
Notice is hereby given pursuant to Section 98 of the Insolvency Act 1986, that a Meeting of Creditors of the above named company will be held at Mazars LLP, Sovereign Court, Witan Gate, Milton Keynes MK9 2HP on 5 March 2008 at 10.30am for the purpose of having a full statement of the position of the company's affairs, together with a list of the creditors of the company and the estimated amount of their claims, laid before them, and for the purpose, if thought fit, of nominating a liquidator and of appointing a liquidation committee. (Sections 99-101 of the said Act).
A form of proxy, if intended to be used by creditors wishing to vote at the meeting, must be duly completed and accompanied by their statement of claim, and must be lodged at the offices of Mazars LLP, Sovereign Court, Witan Gate, Milton Keynes MK9 2HP, not later than 12.00 noon on the business day prior to the meeting.
Notice is also given that, for the purpose of voting, secured creditors must (unless they surrender their security) lodge at Mazars LLP, Sovereign Court, Witan Gate, Milton Keynes MK9 2HP, before the meeting a statement giving particulars of their security, the date when it was given, and the value at which it is assessed.
In accordance with Section 98 (2) Insolvency Act 1986, a list of creditors' names and addresses will be available for inspection, free of charge, at the offices of Mazars LLP, Sovereign Court, Witan Gate, Milton Keynes MK9 2HP, on the two business days immediately prior to the meeting.

A MUCH-NEEDED win away at Leicester Riders kept MK Lions in the final play-off spot in the British Basketball League, but in the same weekend they also surrendered two points to their closest rivals Scottish Rocks.

The Lions' woeful home form continues as they failed to build on a superb win on the road, instead were condemned to their third successive defeat at Bletchley Leisure Centre.

The weekend started with a victory inspired by club captain Tony Windless.

It was his first five points that got the score sheet ticking over before the Riders hit back-to-back baskets in a closely fought first quarter. A late run by Chad McKnight gave the home side a 19-13 lead.

But the Lions took control of the game in the second quarter with Shawn Jamison adding seven points in a 21-2 burst.

Leicester found their range late as McKnight and Joel Burns made a three-pointer each, but they found themselves trailing by 29-36.

Two three-pointers from Kevin Griffin kept the Lions ahead as they stretched the lead out to 31-51.

But the Riders were not prepared to give up without a fight and hit back with 11 unanswered points of their own and Burns hit a triple on the buzzer to narrow the deficit to 47-56.

Yet, the Riders could only find five points in the final quarter and Yorick Williams found the basket twice from beyond the arc to secure victory for the Lions.

It could have been two wins on the bounce but Sheffield Sharks found their rhythm in the final quarter to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat.

In a tight opening half Robert Youngblood had given the Lions the edge but at half-time the teams were tied at 41-41.

Both teams traded baskets throughout the third period, and the lead changed hands on numerous occasions, but it was the Lions who lead 57-56 going into the final stanza.

But the Sharks broke the game open and sealed the victory with a 17-0 run to close out the game at 66-83.

The Lions are now in fourth place, level on points with fifth-placed Sheffield, but do have a game in hand.

■ ON Friday the Lions travel to Newcastle Eagles, tip-off is at 7.30pm.

Double defeats see Lions slip to fifth

DOUBLE defeats have cost MK Lightning heavily as they slipped to fifth place in the English Premier League.

The only bright note for Lightning was results elsewhere allowed them to progress through to the Knock-out Cup semi-final where they will meet Guildford Flames tonight.

Lightning have now lost five consecutive games and all hopes of clinching the league title have now died out.

Both Swindon Wildcats and Slough Jets fired six goals passed Lightning at the weekend as they slumped to two defeats on the road.

It took four minutes for Swindon to take the lead as Matt Davies found an opening for Robin Davison to push into the net during a power play.

Joel Petkoff added the second on the eleventh minute before the Wildcats played some sublime hockey to set up Davision for the third at the end of the first quarter.

Toni Alasaarela finally posted a response from Lightning on the 24th minute but it only came after Tomas Janak had given Swindon a four goal lead.

Gary Clarke, the league's top British scorer, reduced the deficit to two which seemed to inspired Lightning in the later stages of the second period.

And just 37 seconds after the break Ales Parez took Lightning to within a goal of their hosts, it led to them pulling the net minder in favour of an extra skater.

Unfortunately, for MK it was a gamble that did not pay off as Jan Vrtik Petkoff hit two more in the closing stages.

On Sunday, it was much the same for Lightning who trailed Slough Jets by three goals within 22 minutes. Again it was Clarke who replied for MK but Jan Krajicek scored his second of the evening with twenty seconds remaining in the middle period.

A swift start in the third for Lightning provided plenty of hope which was helped by Parez netting within the first minute.

Yet, Slough were able to dig deep to hold off some pressure and put the final nail in the coffin came with Les Millie and Zoran Kozic scoring late to win the match 6-2.

■ MK Lightning travel to Guildford in the cup tonight for an 8pm face-off. On Saturday they host Romford in the league, face-off is at 7pm with the return leg taking place on Sunday, face-off is at 5.15pm.

RUGBY ROUND-UP

BLETCHLEY progressed through to the Buckinghamshire County Cup semi-final in emphatic style with a 72-0 win over Amersham and Chiltern.

Winger Paul Sherriff ran in a hat-trick of tries while Cuan MacKenzie (2), Abel Ripine, Luci Nanci, Matt McClurg, Adam Griffiths, Tim Stobbs, Jamie Parker and Kevin Turnbull also crossed the line.

Fly-half Phil Harman kicked the remaining 12 points.

Within minutes Bletchley had breached the Amersham try line, with captain Turnbull the man to opening the scoring. From there on Bletchley always had the upper hand, a 31 point lead at half-time could have been more had Harman been able to kick the conversions.

The second-half was even worse for Amersham as they let slip a further 41 unanswered points to bow out of the competition in humiliating circumstances.

The home side had plenty of chances to post a score, albeit consolation points, but the Amersham fly-half failed to convert the penalties handed to them.

Bletchley will now meet Milton Keynes in the semi-final on March, 15 at Field Lane, Greenleys.

CHESTER CITY

League Two
Saturday, March 1. KO 3pm

CHESTER City picked up a vital win at the weekend to move 12 points clear of the relegation spots.

Relegation fears had been raised after City went on a run of 12 games without a win which had sent Bobby Williamson's side plummeting down the table.

The Dons' form of late has picked up with four points from their last two league games, but they will need all three points if they are to keep ahead of the promotion chasing pack.

Suspended Dean Lewington, who has played in every league game this season, will be forced to watch this one from the sidelines as will Keith Andrews who serves the first of his two match ban for ten bookings.

THE Dons' progression through to the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final means their fixture against Hereford United, originally scheduled for Saturday, March 29, will be rearranged.

No new date has yet been set.

WREXHAM'S League Two visit to stadiummk will now take place on Tuesday, April 8.

The match at the Dons' stadium two weeks ago was postponed due to a frozen pitch. Kick-off is at 7.45pm.

ENGLAND Under-19s will take on Russia in an international friendly at stadiummk on Tuesday, March 25.

It is the second time the Dons' home will have hosted an international after playing host to England Under-21s last year.

ALAN Navarro has been named in the League Two Team of the Week for the first time this season.

The tenacious midfielder grabbed his second goal of the season at the weekend to help the Dons to a 2-0 win over Barnet at Underhill.

Dons players line up ready for the penalty shoot-out

"Our support was fantastic – during the penalties the crowd were our 12th man

– Dons chairman Pete Winkelman

BY SIMONE CORGAN

NO-ONE had a bigger smile on their face on Monday night than Pete Winkelman.

The MK Dons chairman has been through some very tough and turbulent times with the club, but all his devotion seemed worthwhile when he watched Drewe Broughton fire in the winning penalty to take them to Wembley in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final.

The SKY TV cameras caught Winkelman grinning like a Cheshire cat as the players celebrated by soaking him with champagne in the dressing room after the match.

"I don't think we will ever forget that night," Winkelman said, "it's such an important moment in the history of football in Milton Keynes.

The thrilling second-leg at stadiummk came to a dramatic end as MK Dons went head-to-head with Swansea in a penalty shoot-out.

But the spot-kick competition is something the Dons have mastered this year, beating Ipswich Town in the Carling Cup first round and Gillingham in the area semi-final of the JPT just a month ago before dumping Roberto Martinez's Swansea City and winning through to Wembley.

Winkelman said: "When it came to the penalties I was there and I watched every single one. Willy Gueret, hasn't he been magnificent for us? And the skipper Keith Andrews taking that first penalty and starting it all off. I'm very proud of Paul Ince and I'm very proud of the players."

But like everyone involved with the club, Winkelman is keen to keep a lid on the celebrations while the Dons concentrate on gaining promotion.

"We've still got a massive job to do in the league and we've got to make sure we get promotion. To go to Wembley and get promotion all in one season, I think that would be what dreams are made of."

After years of suffering back-to-back relegations and the heartache of missing out on the play-off finals last year, there is finally something for Dons fans to cheer and get excited about.

And new faces follow success, with what Winkelman hopes will be a new wave of supporters getting behind their local club for the trip to one of the most famous stadiums in the world.

"I'm excited for the people of Milton Keynes, because when you're trying to develop football in a new city there's nothing like a big day out and we're going to have a huge day out at Wembley.

"I think we could take 30,000 people, that would be my aim. There will be loads of people who will want to go who have never been to a game before. But that's great, because that's the chance to convert them. It is going to be very special for the whole city."

Almost 10,000 people turned up on the night to watch Ince's men knock out the League One leaders while thousands of others tuned in to SKY at home.

"Our support was fantastic," he said, "during the penalties the crowd were our 12th man.

"It was difficult for Swansea to take their penalties in front of the Cowshed and it made a big difference for us.

"I'm extremely proud."

MK DONS – ON THEIR WAY TO WEMBLEY

Drewe Broughton fires in Dons fifth penalty to win them a place at Wembley

"I thought 'I have to wait and wait, if I can reach the ball I will save it' – Willy Gueret

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

GOALKEEPING hero Willy Gueret has admitted he was 'a little bit nervous' heading into the decisive penalty shoot-out against Swansea City.

But as it turned out former the Swans keeper had no reason to be apprehensive as he pulled off a superb save to stop Jason Scotland's spot-kick and ultimately take MK Dons to Wembley.

And it was a fitting save considering Scotland's penalty in the 20th minute had taken the game to a nerve-jangling shoot-out as it cancelled Jemal Johnson's strike from the first leg.

Both times Scotland, the League One side's top scorer, placed his strikes low and to the left of Gueret.

As the striker stepped up for the third of Swansea's penalties Gueret already knew what he had to do.

"I waited as long as I could. I thought 'I have to wait and wait, if I can reach the ball I will save it'.

"There is nothing to lose for the goalkeeper. If you make the save you're the hero, if you don't nobody says anything. The way the lads played I had to save something because they were fantastic."

Assistant manager Ray Mathias praised Gueret and the team for their composure during the penalties.

Dons players mob Drewe Broughton after he hit the winning penalty

"The confidence was fantastic and every penalty was an absolute gem - their goalkeeper didn't have a chance.

"Willy Gueret has pulled off an absolutely fantastic save to win us the tie."

Chances aplenty were there to ensure the tie did not need to go down to penalties, but nothing seemed to come off and when Kevin Gallen nodded wide from 8-yards deep into injury time even Gueret thought Lady Luck was against the Dons.

"I thought 'wow we missed that one - it's not going to be our night' and I was a little bit nervous because in penalties anything can happen."

The Dons have not had the easiest routes to Wembley and have claimed the big scalps of Peterborough United, Bournemouth, Gillingham and now Swansea to get there.

And the French goalie can not wait to make an appearance, in Dons colours, on the hallowed turf.

"I've always wanted to play there, it's a great place to play football. It's a shame we have to go to the new one because I would have loved to play at the old one, but the new stadium is fantastic."

The Dons now face a week-long wait to find out whether they will meet either Morecambe or Grimsby Town in the Johnstone's Paint Final.

Although Paul Ince's side have had the better of both teams in the league this season, Gueret insists they will not under-estimate their opponents.

He said: "It's only one game so anything can happen. It's down to us to go and do what we need to do to win the game and to go home with the trophy."

■ DREWE Broughton, who scored the winning penalty on Monday night, has returned to Wrexham on another month's loan deal.

A 24-hour call back meant the Dons striker was able to feature in the area final against Swansea.

But Broughton was yesterday facing the prospect of playing his third game in four days as Wrexham faced Peterborough.

His second loan spell with the Welsh side runs out on March, 25, meaning he can return for the final which takes place three days later.

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES

PAUL MITCHELL

WEMBLEY here we come!

What a fantastic night of football the Johnstone's Paint southern area final produced! Both teams absolutely threw evrything into the game and it was a shame one team had to lose as I thought the match on Monday wouldn't have looked out of place on the great Wembley turf.

I for one can't wait to see the super MK faithful singing their hearts out in one of the greatest sporting venues on the planet.

One major plus for me was the fact that we got to pit our wits against the best of League One. This was always going to be a massive test but one that, everyone will agree, we passed with flying colours. I don't think there will be many that will argue that we were the better of the two sides on the night and the more likely to kill the game in normal time.

Another fascinating statistic to come out of the game is that we haven't missed one penalty in any shoot out this season. That just goes to show the dedication and hard-work that the boys put in on the training ground really does pay dividends.

We as a club have had some tough times over the last few years and Wembley is the least we deserve. To the chairman, gaffer, coaches, players, fans and the city of Milton Keynes, it's a giant step in the building of some great foundations in the world of football.

Something every player can be sure of is that in the next training session, the manager will be demanding those same high standards and that steely determination to win. He is definitely a man who will never let you settle for anything less than first place. We'll make sure that the commitment shown this season carries on right through to the end.

I have to finish by saying a big 'well done' to everybody involved Monday night. You were truly exceptional. MITCH

MK DONS v BARNET SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23

Barnet unfair as Keith breaks beak

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

SPECTACULAR strikes from Lloyd Dyer and Alan Navarro ensured MK Dons left Barnet at the weekend with three points in the bag.

The midfielders scored two screamers in a game which was marred by Barnet's Michael Leary's sending off.

Leary was given his marching orders for violent conduct on the stroke of half-time after a deliberate elbow on Keith Andrews, which broke the Dons' skipper's nose.

The reckless aerial challenge came moments after Leary himself had been involved in a clash of heads with Sean O'Hanlon. The obvious intent was clear as day and Andrews' angry reaction earned him his tenth yellow of the season, meaning he will now miss the Dons' next two matches.

The Dons had taken the lead on the fourteenth minute when Barnet failed to fully clear a tricky cross into the box from Kevin Gallen and Navarro instinctively fired a powerful effort beyond the Bees' keeper Rob Beckwith.

Lloyd Dyer fires in MK Dons' second goal

And just four minutes later Dyer found himself with acres of space he let fly a thunderbolt from his left boot to double the Dons' advantage.

Both goals came somewhat against the run of play, not that it mattered to the Dons, as Albert Adomah forced a save and skied an effort just minutes before the opening strike.

It could have been more for the Dons with the introduction of John Miles creating several openings, yet none were put into the back of the net.

A solid performance was just what the doctor ordered for Dons fans who have seen their side pick up seven points from the 12 available this month.

Cheers for Wembley Willy

Picture: ANDY HANDLEY

THOUSANDS of fans from Milton Keynes are set to make the trip to Wembley to watch MK Dons in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final.

Sunday, March 30 will go down in the history books as MK Dons make their first appearance at the home of English football. And it was a nail-biting end to two terrific legs against Swansea City, currently racing away with the League One title, that secured the Dons' place at football's shrine. With the aggregate score at 1-1 after 180 minutes, the game was decided on penalties in front of the Cowshed.

Goalkeeper Willy Gueret saved Jason Scotland's to give the Dons the advantage and Drewe Broughton stepped up to score the winner following successful spot-kicks from Keith Andrews, Lloyd Dyer, Kevin Gallen and Jude Stirling.
